

BRINGING LIVE PERFORMANCE TO YOUR DOORSTEP

In response to COVID-19, the Cultural Office of the Pikes Peak Region has launched a new program that gives community members access to a roster of talented performing artists who are ready to take their show on the road!

Curbside Culture is a new program that brings the performing arts out into the community by facilitating small-scale live performances, in appropriately social-distanced circumstances, outside of private residences, places of business, and other gathering spots. The program also offers community members an enjoyable arts experience, and a meaningful way to support local performing artists during the COVID-19 pandemic.

HOW IT WORKS

Visit PeakRadar.com/CurbsideCulture to explore the roster of participating performing artists, and then make contact directly to schedule a performance for yourself, or as a gift for someone else!

Each host site for Curbside Culture is responsible for providing electricity by running an extension cord to the street or performance location, and for gathering a small audience to enjoy the performance.

PRICING

Pricing options are listed on the website, and all financial transactions are conducted directly with the chosen performer, in a mutually convenient manner.

In addition to purchasing Curbside Culture performances outright on your own, be sure to follow the Cultural Office online for your chance to win gift certificates for free and discounted performances!
